

HERE'S WHAT WILSON HAS KEPT YOU OUT OF!

War has cost Europe $55,000,000,000 in cash; not less than $15,000,000,000 in property; over 4,000,000 men killed and about 9,000,000 wounded.

At least 1,000,000 soldiers will return home after the war injured beyond repair. They will have to be supported throughout their lives by their families.

At least 10,000 cities, towns and villages have been destroyed wholly or in part by the ruthless bombardments of the European armies.

DEMOCRATS, ATTENTION

Remember, next Tuesday, November 7th, is election day. On that day you should let nothing prevent you from going to the polls and casting your vote for Woodrow Wilson. By his peace policy he has kept our country out of war.

LEADER'S GOOD JOKE

The Lexington Leader, edited by that splendid gentleman, Harry Giovannoli, had an article in Sunday's issue in which it was claimed that Kentucky would go Republican by at least 10,000 and possibly 13,000. We don't know what "brand" those who gave him this information have been using but feel sure that after November 7th he will advise a change. Kentucky is as sure to go Democratic as the sun shines in spite of the large amount of money dumped into the State by the Republican National Committee.

SURPRISE WEDDING

Friends here were agreeably surprised last week to learn of the marriage of Mr. J. Davis Sewell, of this city, and Miss Eleanor Bankston, of Knoxville, Tenn. Mr. Sewell who was in the grocery business here for many years, is widely known throughout this section and has many friends. For several years past he has been connected with a large milling company but retained his home in this city. The Advocate joins friends in extending best wishes.

TWO HUNG JURIES

Two of the most important cases to be tried at this term of the Circuit Court resulted in hung juries. The Hadden will case and the case of the Commonwealth Vs. Cleveland Pergram, charged with murder. Several other small cases were tried and several cases continued until the next term of the court. The grand jury has returned but few indictments, which speaks well for the community.

CALLED HOME

Mrs. N. Trimble McKee, who has been visiting relatives in this section for several weeks, received a telegram Sunday stating that her husband was seriously ill, suffering from a nervous break down. She left that night to be at his bedside. It is hoped by Mr. McKee's many friends here that he will soon recover from his sickness.

BUYS PROPERTY

Mr. John F. Richardson bought last week from Sam Duff 25 acres of land at Spencer Station, also from Judge Lewis Apperson a house and about two acres of land adjoining.

ELECTED PRESIDENT

Mr. Howard VanAntwerp, Jr., of this city, was elected president of his class at Danville College last week. We are glad indeed to see a Mr. Sterling boy so honored and feel sure the class will have no cause to regret his selection.

SUFFERINGS ARE ENDED

After Long Months of Patient Suffering Death Comes to Mrs. John Allen Rice.

On last Wednesday morning the Death Angel visited our midst and touched with his icy finger the hot, fevered brow of Mrs. John Allen Rice and her sufferings on this earth were over and her spirit winged its way to the God who gave it existence. Mrs. Rice had been quite ill for several months and in spite of all that medical science and kind and loving attention could do, death was the conqueror.

She was a true friend, and her devotion to those she loved would make a bright chapter in any life. Nothing but the thought of the loving hand that has removed her can reconcile us to her absence. While she has gone from the scenes, the conflicts, the sorrows and pleasures of life, she will still live in the hearts of those who knew her best. Her retiring nature led her to hide her best qualities from public gaze, but they were revealed to those who enjoyed her acquaintance, yet it was in her home that her true worth was most conspicuous. She was a kind, loving wife and mother, and her devotion to the family circle had no limit.

The sunshine of love could not warm her to life nor affection beguile her from drooping. Her breath went out like the exhalation of a sweetly fragrant minion of the woodland and in her stead was left only a holy and beautiful memory—a memory that will last and sanctify. "God touched her with His finger and she slept," the poet wrote. So may we say of this dear life—"God touched her with His finger, and she slept," but not until a beautiful life was lived, a noble example of patience, fidelity to truth and faith were given. Not until visions of a heavenly life, in Christ Jesus, had cheered and illumined the valley of the shadow. And now, that she sleeps, memory takes up the harp of life, and smiting the strings, finds that her virtues melt into music. So it ever is, when a life is nobly and divinely lived. Life will never be quite the same to those who knew her, while those who were nearest to her will long for her with unutterable longings—long for a mother's counsel and advice, and a wife's gentle and loving sympathy. She was a woman of strong Christian character; patient, loving and self-sacrificing.

Mrs. Rice had been a member of the Christian church for many years. Besides her husband, she is survived by one daughter and a sister, Miss Susie Burroughs and other relatives who have the sympathy of the community in their loss. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Clyde Darsie, assisted by Rev. B. W. Trimble at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon with burial in Murcheloh cemetery.

Bazaar—Bazaar!

The ladies of the Baptist church will have their Christmas bazaar on the 15th and 16th, and Court Day dinner on the 18th of December.

BOND ISSUE IS IMPORTANT

And All Voters Should Vote on this Question Next Tuesday Without Fail.

The voters of Montgomery county, regardless of politics, should not let their interest in the national election Tuesday cause them to forget to vote upon the important question, which will be submitted to them, regarding the creation of a debt not to exceed fifteen thousand dollars with which to purchase the necessary land and erect the proper buildings thereon, for the maintenance of the poor of the county. As most of our readers know, we have no such place at this time and those who are so unfortunate as to require public support, are kept by citizens at various points throughout the county. Some years ago, we did have a poor farm above Jeffersonville, which proved to be very unproductive and the source of a great expense to the county. The Fiscal Court very wisely, we think, sold same and applied the purchase price to some six per cent. interest-bearing indebtedness of the county. Upon investigation it has been found that many counties, in fact, most counties, are keeping their poor at a very much less cost than this county. Such counties, however, all have a fine productive farm, and some of them are actually self-sustaining.

In order that no one may feel there is any politics in its action, the Fiscal Court has designated Messrs. A. Sid Hart, D. J. Burchett, L. L. Bridgforth and Robert Howell—two Democrats and two Republicans—to purchase a farm in the event the bond issue carries. This action insures every taxpayer that his money will be honestly expended and that no gift or waste will occur.

Those who have not given the subject sufficient study should do so not once, in order to intelligently vote upon the question. Those who favor it will vote "yes", while those opposed will vote "no." The question will be found on the right side of the ballot used next Tuesday in every precinct of the county.

FALLS FROM WAGON—DIES

Late Saturday afternoon Mr. Tucker Bryant, of this county, fell from a wagon on Locust street, near S. B. Lane's blacksmith shop, and sustained a fracture of the skull. He was removed to the home of his grand-daughter, Mrs. John Royce, on Jameson street, and death resulted from concussion of the brain Sunday. Mr. Bryant was 76 years old. The burial occurred Tuesday.

DIES FROM INJURIES

Mr. Samuel B. Woodford, of Bourbon county, died at the Massie Hospital at Paris, Saturday night from injuries received in a fall on the streets of Paris that afternoon. His skull was fractured and the young man never regained consciousness. He was a son of the late Buckner Woodford and was widely connected throughout this section.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS GAME

Plucky Little Team Greatly Outweighed But Succeeded in Winning Game.

Although outweighed by an average of twenty-five pounds to the man, the football team of the Mt. Sterling High School defeated the Millersburg Military Institute here yesterday afternoon by a score of 22 to 0. The locals played an especially fast game and many old football players present were loud in their praise of the excellent work of the boys.

Quite a nice crowd was present and coach Robert Nelson is to be congratulated upon the excellent manner in which his team is performing.

Mt. Sterling played the High School team of Georgetown last Thursday neither side scoring. So far this season High School has not been scored against.

Sol Marcossion

Sol Marcossion, Violinist, Mrs. Marcossion, pianist and Mrs. Alice Shaw, contralto, will appear at the High School Auditorium Friday evening, the program to begin at eight o'clock.

This entertainment will be the first of a series of which will be given under the auspices of the High School, the talent being furnished by the Coit Lyceum Bureau, of Cleveland.

High School students are selling season tickets for the sum of $1.50 and each one who sells two such tickets will receive his ticket free of cost.

The entire series will consist of the following:

Nov. 3—Sol Marcossion.
Dec. 12—Dr. Johnson, the humorist.
Jan. 4—Sylvester A. Loag, lecturer.
Feb. 20—Hampshire Male Quartette.
Apr. 19—Lyndon-Gordon Girls, entertainers.

This is by far the best series ever offered in Mt. Sterling and the students should receive the hearty and enthusiastic support of the public in their efforts to have high class entertainments.

FIRST CROP DELIVERED

A. R. Robertson & Son have received the first load of tobacco to be delivered here this season. The crop was delivered by Mr. John Stöfer and amounted to 3,015 pounds and was sold at twelve cents. There have been several other small crops received by this company. Taken as a whole the tobacco crop this year is a very good one and indications are that the price will be good.

VIRGINIA GOES DRY

The State of Virginia will enter the ranks of the prohibition states tonight at twelve o'clock, swelling the list of dry states to eighteen.

Churches and temperance bodies will celebrate the wiping out of the liquor traffic with "Watch" services.

STRAW VOTE FAVORS WILSON

Turning Point in Campaign is Passed and Wilson Appears to be The Winner.

The straw vote being taken by the Cincinnati Enquirer shows that Wilson gained in 18 States last week and that Hughes gained in 8 and that there were no important changes in many others. In the city of New York the President gained but Hughes gained up-state.

The Enquirer says:

"The Republicans make no secret of the fact that a week ago they were in a most pessimistic frame of mind. They fully realized then that the eight-hour campaign cry, coupled with the slogan, 'He kept the nation at peace,' had made dangerous inroads into their stronghold. The Democrats at that time were communally optimistic.

"There is no doubt that during the last five or six days there has come a change—whether psychological or real will be shown by the straw votes now being gathered. The Republicans sincerely believe that they have broken the labor swing. They say the great army of workers throughout the country are now turning toward the Republicans on the issue of permanent prosperity. The Democrats are not quite so confident as they were, but declare that the crystallization of the labor vote in the Middle West has been so complete that there is no chance of defeating their national ticket."

The Washington Post, notoriously hostile to the Administration, in its leading editorial Monday warns the Republicans against impending disaster on November 7th.

"When the State of Ohio gives signs of going to Wilson by a heavy plurality, it is not surprising that the Republicans are worried," it says:

"Call everything guesswork, if you like. Stress the fact that no one can foretell anything. Yet no one can honestly shut his eyes to the visible. Mr. Wilson had unquestionably gained upon Mr. Hughes during the latter half of October.

"Seven working days remain before election. Anything may happen, of course, but the history of previous elections does not disclose any case in which the last week of a campaign upset all that has gone before, or even materially altered the trend of public opinion.

"The palpable drift toward Mr. Wilson is the outstanding feature of the late campaign. It is the great, definite fact that confronts the Republican managers throughout the North. They must meet and master it this week or it will defeat them."

This promises to be the closest race in the history of the United States and all people who prefer peace and plenty to war and starvation should rally to the support of our gallant president.

DIES IN COLORADO

Mrs. Hulda Barnes, aged 76 years, died at the home of her niece, Mrs. C. B. Boss, at Denver, Colo., Monday morning. Death being due to the infirmities incident to her advanced age. Mrs. Barnes had made her home in Denver for some time past but is well remembered here where she and her late husband, Mr. R. M. Barnes, lived for many years. She is survived by many relatives in this and adjoining counties. Her remains will be taken to Lincoln, Ill., for interment. The Advocate joins friends in tendering sympathy to the bereaved family.

PASS THROUGH CITY

Quite a number of automobiles driven by members of the Louisville Automobile Club passed through this city today and were joined here by several cars. These gentlemen are interested in the Midland Trail and were on their way to Ashland to confer with those interested there. The good roads movement is sweeping the entire country and great strides have been made in this state within the last few years toward bettering our roads.

THE MILITANT CANDIDATE

To use a military figure of speech, which is a popular practice now, Candidate Hughes is entitled to rank as a Major-General on the "Offensive," but when it comes to the "Defensive" he is entitled only to the rank of Corporal.

His speeches fairly bristle with brave implications of what he would have done, which would have held Germany, the Allies and Mexico in neck obedience to our wishes. Yet with all his bravado he has never definitely told what, had he been President, he would have done, when Belgium was invaded; when the Lusitania was sunk; would he have intervened in Mexico?

If his intimations to the nations at war and to Mexico should be as vague and indefinite as the information he gives to the American people, they could only guess at what he would do and one guess would be as good as another. Who can guarantee that the effect of his intimated actions and course would have the effect he promises?

He has not had the simple courage to tell certain non-American forces supporting him that their support of him was not justified and that he did not desire it. Wilson had that courage. He had it four years ago. He has it now.

It costs more to produce clean milk than dirty milk. The difference in cost is health insurance.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. ### VITAL STATISTICS

Kentucky being a Southern State with a large per cent. of its population comprised of negroes, has attracted considerable attention from the rest of the States that keep Vital Statistics records and which have only a small per cent. of negro population. A resume of the 1915 Vital Statistics records of Kentucky shows that there were 23,541 deaths of white people recorded during the year and 5,519 deaths of negroes. The total estimated white population of Kentucky was 2,115,315 and total colored population was 249,970. This gave a death rate of 11.1 for whites and 22.9 for blacks per 1,000 population. It is very significant that the diseases of the respiratory organs are responsible for a much larger death rate among the colored population than the white. The death rate per 100,000 white population was 144.8 and 434.2 in the colored for tuberculosis of the lungs. The rate per 100,000 for other forms of tuberculosis for white population was 20.1 and for colored population, 41.6. Pneumonia gave a death rate of 89.1 per 100,000 for the white and 204.5 for colored population. Whooping cough gave 8.9 for white and 15.6 for the colored population. Influenza or la grippe gave 9.7 for the white and 38.4 for the colored population. Diarrheal and dysenteric diseases, including typhoid fever, afford a striking example of the high death rates in the colored population, the rates per 100,000 being 27.5 for whites and 49.2 for colored population for typhoid. The diarrheal and dysenteric diseases of children under two years of age gave a death rate of 34.9 for white and 41.2 for colored population. Dysentery of people aged two years and over gave a rate of 14.8 for the white and 22.4 for the colored population.

These facts are of vital importance to the people of the State because of the intimate relation of the colored and white population on account of the servant problem. The record shows that for this year, which is typical of the prevailing conditions, there were about three times as many negroes afflicted with tuberculosis as whites, assuming the mortality rate to be of the same severity. A tubercular cook in the kitchen is more dangerous to a family than an unconfined lunatic. In the latter case, upon the first act of violence, he would be confined by society. In the former case, there is nothing to prevent such an individual from infecting each and every member of the household, and continuing the process as often as she is hired by other families. Tuberculosis sputum, containing myriads of germs of consumption, can be readily spread by contact of the fingers with the mouth and nose or the handkerchief, and from the fingers it can be spread upon such foods as are not thoroughly sterilized by cooking, giving rise to an intestinal form of tuberculosis. Careless spitting on the part of a domestic will result in many of these germs finding their way through dust to the lungs of members of the family who necessarily visit the kitchen. Maids affected with tuberculosis have access to the sleeping chambers of the family, and the same carelessness due to ignorance or indifference leads to disastrous results.

It is well known that many epidemics of typhoid fever have been traced to cooks who previously had suffered an attack of typhoid and who continued to discharge from the bowels millions of these seed of the disease for weeks or often months. Negro cooks in the matter of personal habits have rather unenviable reputations and are especially dangerous when they are carriers of the disease. They are careless of the finger nails or in the matter of washing soiled hands and have abundant opportunities for permitting this foul material laden with germs to come in contact with the food of the family. This is especially true in handling milk, which is almost always drunk without being sterilized.

It is well known that the South has higher death rates from typhoid and tuberculosis. Some public health officials, and people who take a pride in the land of their birth, endeavor to explain this and excuse it by saying it is because of the high percentage of the negroes in the population of the South and their high death rate. This does not lessen the importance of the public health problem, but rather magnifies it for the reasons above given. A white man, woman, boy or girl dead from typhoid fever or consumption which came from a negro infective agent, is just as dead as if the disease had not been contracted from a white person, and any work of health reform which leaves out of consideration, education and control of the colored population is worse than useless and is folly.

The death rate per 100,000 of white from violence was 64.8 and of colored, 132.8. Cancer showed a slight increase in the death rate of colored population. Diphtheria showed a rate of 24.7 in the white and 12.8 in the colored population. Measles showed a slight decrease in colored population. Pellagra, meningitis and scarlet fever had approximately the same rate.

A QUESTION OF CITIZENSHIP

Just at this time the question of neutrality is claiming much attention, and the matter of the attitude of our government toward the warring nations of the Old World is one of deep concern. And owing to the fact that our government has had to settle some knotty international disputes arising from the war, a rather mixed up condition of affairs is prevailing in this country.

The disputes with Germany and with England have developed a pro-German and anti-German element, a pro-British and an anti-British. We are told that we must concede every claim of Germany or lose the sympathy of the German-Americans. We are also told we must conciliate Britain or alienate a large Anglo-American element.

Now the thought that naturally occurs to the patriotic American is: What is the attitude of these various elements toward our government? Are they American citizens or aliens? That is a question to be settled.

If this pro-German or pro-British element with whose vengeance we are threatened, are aliens—not American citizens—then their likes and dislikes are of small concern to us. If they do not like our attitude let them go back to their own country.

If, on the other hand, they are American citizens, then another and very large question arises. Are they citizens for revenue only—holding citizenship for the material good to be derived therefrom while their hearts and affections are with the old country? Then the sooner they come out in the open the better for this country. Are they here to cull the sweets of the land and refuse to take the bitter? Is it their intention to enjoy the protection of our laws and our institutions while their hearts are with those who may at any day become our enemies?

To the man who has crossed the waters to east his lot with America, citizenship should be the most priceless of his possessions—is so to the man who is worthy of it. He

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Montgomery Circuit Court, rendered at the October Term, 1916, thereof, in the above cause, the undersigned will, on the 20th Day of November, 1916 at one o'clock, p. m., or thereabout, (being Court Day), proceed to offer for sale, at Public Auction, to the highest bidder, on a credit of six, twelve and eighteen months, at the Court House door, in Mt. Sterling, Ky., the property mentioned in the judgment, to-wit:

A certain tract of land situated on the waters of Lullbegrud Creek, in Montgomery county, State of Kentucky, and bounded on the north by the lands of Thornton Snelling, on the east by the Mary Anderson and Barrow lands, on the south by a 201 acre tract of land formerly belonging to B. F. Day, and on the west by Moberley heirs land, and containing 158 acres of land; and being the same land conveyed to Douglas L. Day in a deed of partition between the said Douglas L. Day and B. F. Day, dated November 20, 1911, and of record in Deed Book 65, at page 588 in the Montgomery County Court Clerk's office.

The said land will be sold as a whole. The amount of the debts, interest, and costs for which said sale is to made is $5,408.93.

The purchaser will be required to give bonds, with approved security, for the payment of the purchase money, to have the force and effect of a Replevin bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale, according to law. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms. A lien will be retained on the land sold till all the purchase money is paid.

Bonds payable to the Master Commissioner.

THE REPUBLICAN CORRUPTION FUND

That the Republican party is flooding the country with money can no longer be denied. The report, which under the law must be filed in Washington not later than ten days before the election, shows that the disbursements up to the night of October 23rd were $1,578,934.38. This is only the beginning, as from now on millions will be contributed and the above amount does not take into consideration contributions made directly to the various State Campaign Committees.

If one doubts that Wall Street is financing Mr. Hughes' campaign, he should read the names of the big contributors, as shown by the sworn report above referred to.

The four largest contributors were Harry Payne Whitney, who gave $30,000, and R. T. Crane, Jr., of Chicago; Arthur Curtis James, George F. Baker, Jr., and the New Jersey Republican State Committee, who gave $25,000 each; Edward S. Harkness, Clarence H. Mackay, W. R. Allen, $20,000 each; J. S. Bache and Company, A. D. # WHICH WAY WILL YOU VOTE?

The WILSON WAY Means Peace

The Wilson Way

Around 20,000,000 happy firesides the fathers of America will gather this night with their unbroken family circle, with their children upon their knees and their wives by their side, happy and prosperous. Contrast this with the fathers, husbands and brothers of the Old World dying in the ditches, with the gloom and mourning in broken family circles, where hunger crouches and disease treads. It is the "evil and vacillating" God prosper it and teach it to the rulers of the old World.

—Hon. Ollie M. James, at St. Louis Convention.

The HUGHES WAY Means War

The Hughes-Roosevelt Way

What Roosevelt Would Do As Secretary of War and Dictator to Hughes

"I have been asked what I would have done if I had been President when the Lusitania was torpedoed," shouted the speaker. "I would instantly have taken possession of every German ship interned in this country, and then I would have said: 'Now, we will discuss, not what you will give, but what we will give back.'—Theodore Roosevelt in a speech at Battle Creek, October 2, 1916.

With Hughes as President, and Roosevelt as Secretary of War, we would today be taking part in the European war and sacrificing hundreds of thousands of our fathers and sons and piling up billions of dollars of debt, and all to accomplish less than Wilson got by diplomacy.

SOLDIERS GOT RELIEF FROM SORENESS

Boys on the Border Relieved Their Pains and Aches with Sloan's Liniment.

Once upon a time Norman Jones, serving in the National Guard at El Paso, returned to camp after a strenuous 15 mile hike foot-sore and leg-weary. He had not been long in active service and his shoulders, back and limbs felt the after-effects of marching. Remembering Sloan's Liniment, Jones applied it to the sore spots and went to bed. He writes: "I arose the next morning feeling fine; in fact I had entirely forgotten about the hike and went out for a four-hour drill in the sun as spry as ever."

Private Jones passed the experience along, and many a boy on the border relieved the agony of sprains, strains, bruises, insect bites, cramped muscles, rheumatic twinges, etc., by the use of Sloan's Liniment.

Easily applied without rubbing. At all druggists, 25c., 50c. and $1.00

GOOD HABIT

One of the best habits that a young man can form is that of saving a certain part of his earnings regularly. From the very first, when he has made arrangements with father and mother in the home, or when his landlady, as to what he shall pay into the house for his keep, he should make it the rule of his life to put something, be it ever so little, away from his weekly or monthly wages. It's a fine thing to be able to wear a necktie that is artistic in its coloring, a vest that is beautiful in its construction, or a suit that is noble and a hat that is up to date. But better than all these is the consciousness of a bank account, however small it may be, and the feeling of satisfaction that comes from the knowledge that if he is taken ill he will not altogether be dependent upon his fraternal society, his family, his friends or the cold charity of the world.

It is a certain and sure fact that not every one in this world can be rich. Neither does every one want to be rich, but every man can, if he will, form such a habit of thrift that when trouble overtakes him, as it must overtake all, he will be able to ward off much of its unpleasantness. It is a truth that goes without disputation, many of the bitter things that come to us along with our troubles are caused by the knowledge of the truth that had it not been for extravagance in the past the trouble of today would have been of less moment and more easy to bear.

It's a good thing for a man to have friends upon whom he can depend in moments of adversity. "A friend in need is a friend indeed," is true. But the best friend that a young man can have when the storm strikes his life is a bank account that has grown from small to larger amounts, saved from his salary by the habit of thrift that he has formed.

Money saving is reflex in its influence. It not alone gives a man courage in time of trouble, but it also weaves into his character habits of thoughtfulness, forehand-edness, stability and strength, without which no man can go through life successfully.

Doubtless it is a good thing, or rather a pleasant thing, for a young man to be able to dress in the way that a cultivated taste may demand. But there is a better thing than that, to be able to know that when hard times come he can still continue to dress neatly and tastefully without feeling any loss of confidence that comes through unkeptness in dress and consciousness of the fact that he is not keeping up to his former standards.

No man ever regrets having formed the habit of saving, though many regret that they never did form the habit. "If I only had" is the sad wail that is heard from many lips, while the words, "I am glad that I did" are rarely heard in this day of extravagance, outside show and exaltation of the things that are fashion for the hour and soon pass away.

It's going to take a strong character to form the habit of saving money from a small income, yet it can be done. There are so many allurements and attractions for a young man nowadays that it will take all of his strength of purpose to live to the motto, "I am going to save now, so that in the years to come I shall have something to show for my industry."

But greater than the money that a young man can save is the character that he is establishing. Carelessness, stinginess, greed are to be abhorred, but prudence and carefulness in expenditure are graces which, cultivated, makes a man a power in the community and give to him a character which commands itself to all.

PUNISHMENT NOT REFORMATION

Edward E. Dudding, of Huntington, W. Va., himself an ex-convict, claims to have secured employment for three thousand ex-convicts. He also claims that of that number less than one hundred have "fallen down" on their jobs.

Mr. Dudding has gotten hold of the right wire in twentieth century reform.

Strange that otherwise kind-hearted and humane people will persist in "punishing" the criminal, even after he has paid the uttermost farthing of his penalty.

Why can not we all see that the logical end of law is not to punish but to reform the evil-doer?

Pause a moment and consider that word "punish." Doesn't it smack too much of vengeance? And who ever heard of vengeance reforming a transgressor? Perhaps when the vengeance has so completely broken the poor wretch that he has lost the power of resentment we may consider him reformed, but God save us from such reformation.

As men of enlightenment and mercy, we should look on the law machinery of the land merely as the means by which we may reform or re-make the character which untoward circumstances have warped and twisted out of its original symmetry. The very idea of punishment is repugnance to the soul of the merciful man, and should have no place in our scheme of life.

We insist that the idea of punishment as applied to the evil-doer is unworthy of the enlightened citizenship of this great country.

Reform the evil-doer, re-make the warped and twisted character; restrain, if necessary, the incurably vicious, but punish—never.

Modesty is a jewel—but, like most jewels in this day it is hard to find.

TO ERADICATE BEDBUGS

Practical Information on Dealing With This Household Pest.

Those who are troubled by bedbugs will find practical information as to how to deal effectively with these pests in Farmers' Bulletin 754, "Bedbugs," recently published by the department. In this bulletin C. L. Maflatt, of the Bureau of Entomology, makes clear the habits of these insects which have a bearing on their eradication, and suggests a number of simple household measures, as well as more radical methods, of getting rid of them. The author calls attention especially to the fact that these insects will migrate from an unoccupied to an inhabited house and points out that the fact they ordinarily hide in the daytime makes it necessary to apply the insecticides in cracks in walls and floor and crevices under wall paper, where the insects ordinarily are concealed and lay their eggs. Information as to the ability of bedbugs to withstand cold and to go without food for long periods will be especially useful to those intending to move into houses long untenanted.

Of the simpler remedies the entomologist says that benzene, kerosene, or other lighter petroleum oils introduced into crevices by means of a brush or syringe are perhaps the most efficient. The bulletin also gives directions for fumigation with sulphur or other chemicals, which will be found economical and effective in cases of general infestation.

Those who have been bitten will find applications of peroxid of hydrogen useful in allaying irritation. Tincture of iodine, in its ordinary or double strength, is also a good counterirritant for use in cases of fleas, mosquitoes, bedbugs, or other insect bites. Iodin, however, should be used with caution on the tender skin of small children and on those who are affected with or disposed to eczemic disorders.

The bulletin will be supplied free by the department as long as the supply lasts.

BRIEF ITEMS

Sorghum grain is a valuable poultry feed.

The 48 States are now spending $280,000,000 a year on good roads. Grackles and blue jays often destroy eggs and nestlings of other birds.

Diseases of animals cause losses of $212,000,000 a year in the United States. Much of this loss is preventable.

Wash water used in the churn should be approximately the same temperature as the buttermilk, or within 2 degrees of it.

More than 200,000 boys and girls were enrolled in 1915 in agricultural and canning clubs conducted co-operatively by the State colleges and the department.

It is estimated that the man who ships 20 cars of grain containing 20 per cent. of moisture pays

NOTICE OF ELECTION

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, as Sheriff of Montgomery county, Kentucky, pursuant to an order adopted by the Fiscal Court of said County on Tuesday, September 5th, 1916, will on Tuesday, November 7, 1916, same being the date of the regular general election to be held in and for said County, hold an election and open a poll in said County and in each precinct thereof for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal voters of said County as to whether or not they favor the incurring, by Montgomery County, of an indebtedness of Fifteen Thousand ($15,000.00) Dollars, for the purpose of purchasing a farm in said County and the erection of necessary and suitable buildings and improvements thereon for the care and maintenance of the poor of said County. The proposition will be submitted to the legal voters of said County on the official ballots at said election as follows, to-wit:

Shall Montgomery County incur an indebtedness of Fifteen Thousand ($15,000.00) Dollars, and issue its bonds therefor, bearing interest at the rate of not exceeding Six Per Cent. per annum, payable annually or semi-annually, to be in denomination of not less than One Hundred ($100.00) nor more than One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars, to run not less than two nor more than twenty years, to be redeemed within that time at the pleasure of the Fiscal Court of said County, and to be sold at not less than par and accrued interest, to provide a farm and suitable improvements thereon for the care and maintenance of the poor of said County?

YES ☐

NO ☐

Said election will be held at the regular voting places in each precinct of said County on the date aforesaid, between the hours of 6 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M., and at the same places and by the same officers who hold said regular general election and said proposition will be printed on the regular official ballot of said regular general election and said election will be conducted in all respects under the general election laws of the State of Kentucky.

Given under my hand as Sheriff of Montgomery County, Kentucky, this 28th day of September, 1916.

HARRY F. HOWELL, Sheriff of Montgomery County, Ky.

WHAT WILSON HAS SAVED US FROM

Like the Esquimaux who was astonished at nothing in New York, except the tallness of the trees, so Miss Dorothy Sampson, of Chicago, who has recently returned from many years' continuous residence in Europe, comments chiefly on the large number of men on our American streets.

"In the cities of Europe," she said, "one sees only old men and cripples. If Americans could all experience the contrast in this one thing alone, they would get down on their knees and thank God for peace."

Miss Sampson speaks of the war in a lowered voice and looks around to see that the windows are closed. This habit has grown on her through her war time experience in Europe.

NOT "AMERICA ONLY"

In a vain striving after some slogan for the Republican campaign which would strike the popular fancy, ex-Senator Beveridge coined "America Only."

Contrast the selfish narrowness of this with America's history and America's destiny and the American policy of Woodrow Wilson.

Our country started with a world wide mission "to offer a home and freedom to the oppressed of all nations." That was the Americanism of the FATHERS OF THE REPUBLIC, and the Americanism of WASHINGTON, of LINCOLN and of WILSON.

Lovers of liberty and justice all the world over have looked to America for inspiration, for guidance, for sympathy and help and they have not looked in vain, least of all in the administration of Woodrow Wilson. Under him the highest traditions of America have been maintained.

Great nations at war, in a struggle that each believed to threaten its very existence, sought to disregard the restrictions of International Law. President Wilson with a firmness that forced obedience and a patience that scrupulously observed all the principles and ideals of the law he so insistently upheld, has preserved to America and to all nations International Law as a rule of conduct among nations. He preserved its very life, for no other power than America could have said "nay" to the nations at war.

In this President Wilson has not only performed an immortal service to civilization and humanity—he has brought America to fulfill her highest, broadest, noblest destiny.

Oysters, celery and cranberries, received fresh every day, at Vanarsdell's.

The "high cost of living" is high enough to scare any one but a millionaire, and it is doubly so when waste and extravagance prevails in the kitchen. The cost of a bite wasted is not much in itself alone, but multiplied many fold it becomes a serious matter.

PROGRESSIVE LEADERSHIP

In announcing an eight-hour day for the employees of a shipbuilding company at Portland, Ore., the president of the concern, who disclaims allegiance to any political party, credits Mr. Wilson with having furnished the inspiration for the voluntary action of the corporation. This change, he says, "was brought about by President Wilson's action in the railroad case." That the eight-hour movement in general industry has received a decided and perceptible impetus from Mr. Wilson's endorsement of the principle involved has been evident during the last few weeks. There have recently been other notable cases, as in the clothing trades of Chicago, of the unsolicited concession of the eight-hour day by employers. Henry Ford, who has been an enthusiastic believer in the work-day of shorter hours on account of the excellent results observed in his automobile factories, declares that if Mr. Wilson never does another thing for the workers "he will always have the honor of having begun a movement that may revolutionize working conditions" for the better.

However, the settlement of the railroad strike by congress may be criticized by the more conservative-minded, nothing could be sner than President Wilson's future rank as one of the great progressives of his time by reason of his powerful stroke in support of the eight-hour movement in industry. The effects will be lasting and incalculable. That the wage earners in innumerable occupations will the sooner be advantaged by shorter hours, with something more to live for aside from toil, because of the plain-spoken and untainted declaration of the president that the eight-hour day has "the sanction of society," must be apparent to all who labor for wages.

In identifying the Democratic party with this movement, Mr. Wilson performed a genuine feat of constructive, progressive leadership. The cause of 100 per cent. progressivism has been signally promoted in this country by the Democratic President.

Republicans like Mr. Hughes, Mr. Taft, Mr. Root, Nicholas Murray Butler, Mr. Lodge, Mr. Depew, Mr. Weeks—there is no end of these conservative Republican leaders—are unmistakably giving their party a tory cast by their attitude.

These men misinterpret naturally enough the action of Congress on the Adamson law because they are so thickly crusted with conservatism, but are they following Mr. Hughes' leadership, to dominate all Republican thinking and all Republican sympathies on the question?

The liberal, the progressive attitude, is that of Mr. Ford, the great manufacturer and employer of an army of workmen; and the liberal and progressive leadership is that of Mr. Wilson, who is today the only great progressive left in American politics.—Springfield Republican.

SYSTEMATIZE

Your household expenses by opening a bank account for your wife. Give her a check book and teach her the use of it. Pay the butcher, the grocer, the baker, with a check. Then at the end of the month you'll find out just how much it costs you to run the home. When payment by check is made there never is any doubt as to whether or not a bill is paid. The check is a receipt.

Besides, a checking account will give your wife a business education. The number of ordinarily bright women who know absolutely nothing of banking is surprising. If you are a husband, father, brother, you cannot tell when death may overtake you, and it is well that your wife, daughter and sister know something of banking.

SEED COMPANY WINS SUIT

In the suit of D. S. Gay, et. Vs. the Kentucky Bluegrass Seed Co., in the Circuit Court here last week Judge William A. Young decided in favor of the defendant. The plaintiffs sought to recover about $10,000 on account of profit they expected to receive under a contract with the defendant whereby it agreed to furnish them a certain character of bluegrass seed and failed to do it.

In Judge Young's decision the contract was declared void under the United States statute against trusts as well as under the Kentucky statute governing trusts, it being in restraint of trade, according to Judge Young's opinion, for parties to contract to control the trade and output of bluegrass or any other product for any given year or period.

The case has been pending for some time and was bitterly contested throughout. Whether an appeal is to be taken has not yet been announced.

PAPER CRISIS COMING FAST

A suspension of numerous newspapers in the United States will occur within a few months because of the scarcity of and the advance in price of print paper, according to a statement made by J. S. Clark, of Cincinnati, representative of the Western Newspaper Union, before the Bluegrass Publishers and Printing Association, which was formed in Lexington Friday. Mr. Clark said that within the past few days two newspapers had cancelled orders for paper, saying they would have to suspend operation until the price was reduced. He also said that print paper would reach the unparalleled price of 10 cents a pound before the end of February, 1917.

Owen McIntire, of the Danville Advocate, said that after a diligent inquiry and investigation he was of the opinion that the mills were working to crowd out the country newspapers by charging them 6½ and 7 cents for paper, while he knew of one big daily that was getting paper at 2½ cents.

J. M. Allen, of the Cynthiaia Democrat, was elected president of the new organization; Guy Johnson, of the Guy Johnson Printing Company, Lexington, vice president, and D. M. Hutton, of the Harrodsburg Herald, secretary-treasurer. An Executive Committee of three members, of which he will be ex-officio chairman, will be appointed by the president. Four meetings will be held each year, on the last Friday in January, April, July and October. All meetings will be held in Lexington.

ATTENTION TOBACCO GROWERS

Of general interest to tobacco growers is the announcement that there will be held in Lexington, Ky., on November 23, 24 and 25 the Lexington Burley Tobacco Show, at which growers from all parts of the district will be invited to compete for prizes ranging up to one hundred dollars and aggregating one thousand dollars.

Never before has a tobacco show of such proportions been held. As a rule tobacco shows are a sub-issue combined with exhibits of farm products and the tobacco comes in for but little consideration. Differing widely from the usual practice this show to be held at Lexington is for tobacco alone, and the amount of money to be distributed in prizes makes its success assured. Aside from this it has the backing of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, the Lexington Board of Commerce, the Lexington Rotary Club, the Lexington Tobacco Board of Trade, and prominent men of the Bluegrass section.

The show is for bona fide producers only, and none other will be allowed to compete, and all samples must be of the 1916 crop. In addition to the exhibits of fine tobacco it is planned to make this a gigantic three days convention of tobacco growers to discuss improved methods of producing, curing and marketing the crop. Men of national prominence in the various branches have been invited to attend this gathering and lead the discussions. Mr. A. R. Robertson, of this city, has been requested to serve as one of the judges.
